Insured Retirement Institute
1101 New York Avenue, NW, Suite 825
Washington, DC 20005

Dear Ms. Weatherford:

Being able to enjoy one's retirement is a cornerstone of the American Dream. Through sensible planning, an individual should be able to retire with the peace of mind that their finances are secure. That is why it is crucial that all Americans understand the importance of properly preparing for their retirement years.

National Retirement Planning Week is a significant effort that provides Americans with essential information regarding their finances. I applaud you for your leadership in spearheading the National Retirement Planning Coalition and commend all the coalition members for their efforts to educate Americans about retirement planning. This is a significant effort that promotes awareness of this important issue.

I wish you all the best as you continue your efforts.

Sincerely,
